A San Francisco "Want Ad."

The San Francisco Chronicle of Nov. 28th, which arrived on the steamer Nevada, contained the following advertisement in its "Lost and Found" columns:

"LOST—Wednesday, November 26th. Cane marked W. H. Wright; $2.50 will be paid to the finder by leaving the same at 325 Pine st."

As there was but one day's mail by the steamer most people had time to even read the advertisements appearing in the San Francisco papers and so some one found the above item and immediately decided that they had discovered the whereabouts of Hawaii's absconding treasurer. The news quickly went around Honolulu and furnished gossip for the day as it was known that William Harrison Wright was the owner of such a cane. But it is probable that this is not the right Wright, for the San Francisco directory contains this entry: "Wright, William H. office 329 Pine, r. 2029 Pierce," and this is likely the man who lost the cane.

In Need of Repairs.

One of the streets which is in need of immediate attention is Punchbowl from Queen street to the Honolulu Iron Works. Although a street with many curves, it is one leading away from the Channel and Bishop wharves and when the latter are thrown open for use, Punchbowl street will be an important artery of traffic. At present a rain-storm turns it into a quagmire and being ill-lighted, progress through it is somewhat hazardous at night.

Manager Burnham in Town.

Captain W. D. Burnham, general manager of the American-Hawaiian line of freighters running between Honolulu, Puget Sound, San Francisco and New York, arrived in Honolulu on the steamer Nevada. He made the trip on the oil-burner especially to learn how fuel-oil can be utilized on a steamer and while in Honolulu will inspect the company's business and prospects here.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The band played yesterday afternoon at Kapiolani Park.

Judge Gear has returned from Maui. Judge Kalua having recovered sufficiently to hold court.

The match race on Saturday at Kapiolani Park track between Racine Murphy and Aggravation was won by the former in 1:49. Aggravation finishing several lengths behind.

Tom Morrissey, an old fire department wagon driver, went on the mounted police detail last night, taking the place made vacant by Birmingham who resigned to go to New Zealand.

The regular monthly meeting of the Honolulu and Hoola Lahui Society will be held at the Kapiolani Maternity Home at 10 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, Dec. 10th. All members are requested to attend.

The members of Camp Roosevelt, Spanish-American War Veterans, will meet this evening at headquarters in the Oregon Block, entrance on Union street, to transact business and hold an election of officers. All members are urgently requested to attend.

The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's will hold forth on Thursday afternoon, December 11, from three to six o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. W. M. Giffard, corner of Keaunoku and Dominis streets. A sale of fancy articles from the Gypsy Encampment will be held. Members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Hato, a Japanese hack driver, was arrested on Waikiki road yesterday afternoon by Lieut. Leslie for violating rule 27 of the Hack regulations which refers to hackmen driving while in an intoxicated condition. Hato was driving all over the road, and when Leslie jumped into the hack, took the reins and started to drive the rig to the station, the jehu made a desperate effort to prevent the officer from holding the reins, saying that he was not a licensed driver.

Thomas James, known from San Francisco to Calcutta and from Japan to Australia, as simply "Tom James," assumes the duties of manager of the Moana Hotel today, succeeding Mr. Shannon, who has resigned. Mr. James is well known by nearly everyone in Honolulu and nearly all the seasoned travellers on the Pacific ask when landing here: "Where can I find Tom James?" so that it is a certainty that he will soon gather a congenial lot of people together at the Moana.

W. C. Peacock has filed his answer to the complaint of the United States asking for the forfeiture of the vessel "Julia E. Whalen." Peacock declares that at the time he made application for registry he knew that he was not an American citizen, but does not know whether he made oath to that effect or not, and thought this was only a formal proceeding. He answers further that he had no individual interest in the matter, the title of the vessel being in his name, only temporarily. He denies also that the vessel is worth $2500 or any sum in excess of $2,000.

Meeting of the Cousins Society.

The Cousins Society met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cooke, about 35 being present. Good music was enjoyed and letters from absent members were read. The society was glad to hear of the success of the coming special issue of "The Friend," and as individuals the society voted to use as many copies as possible. It was voted in future to sell unbound copies of the missionary album at $2.00 each.

A very interesting relic of the olden days was shown by Mr. Cooke, a curious old sewing machine used by the early missionaries. It was heavy and bulky and weighed, seemingly, about half a ton.
